

Glide is the best way to do disclosures

Glide is the best way to manage a transaction's disclosure process, from start to finish. With Glide you can prepare, organize, sign, and share your disclosure packages from one user-friendly interface, saving time for you and time and frustration for your clients.

Mitigate risk through comprehensive disclosures & audit trails

Incomplete or incorrect disclosures are one of the leading causes of legal action in residential real estate. Glide's platform provides a variety of features designed to make providing complete, comprehensive disclosure forms as easy as possible.

Delight clients with tools built for them

Home sellers are often overwhelmed with the complexities of disclosure forms; Glide's guided interface and in-line contextual help take clients through the disclosure forms question by question, eliminating stress and confusion in the process.

Improve operational efficiency on each transaction

Agents and Transaction Coordinators have to keep track of so many moving pieces on every transaction. Glide's invitations, reminders, and progress tracker keep everything running smoothly.

“[Glide] really sets you apart; it makes you look like a superstar compared to other agents who are fumbling around.”

Tony Self
Hunter Mason Realty

Glide makes the residential real estate process simpler and more efficient by enabling home sellers to provide complete, comprehensive disclosure forms, thus reducing the risk of legal action for brokerages and sellers.

See how Glide can make a difference for you and your clients.

Register today at www.glide.com